

Couldn't Resist.

Page C—was pretty extensively known in olden time as one of the hardest of the hard—not a court passed without half a dozen indictments against him for assault and battery. He had just been tried and fined heavily, and was standing in a meditative mood upon the upper step of the court house door. One step below him stood a stranger who Page had never before seen, and who certainly had given him no cause of offense. Without a word Page struck the unsuspecting and astonished individual a "sockdologer," and of course tumbled him headlong down the flight of steps. The grand jury was still in session, and within an hour another indictment was returned, a plea of guilty entered, and a fine assessed and paid. As Page walked up town from the court house he was asked what motive he had in striking the man. "Well the fact was," said he, "he stood so fair I couldn't help it."

THE SOUTH.—The New Jersey Mechanic says: The South is going into manufacturing. All over the country new cotton mills are being built and put in operation. Georgia has heretofore nearly monopolized this branch of industry at the South; but now Mississippi and Alabama, as well as Carolinas, are waking up to the advantage of the manufacture of cotton goods. At Camden, Alabama, a wealthy company have taken the initiatory steps to erect a large building, and put it with the most approved machinery. At Carrollton, Mississippi, a large factory is in operation, which, in a short time, will employ one hundred and eighty spinners. In Marengo county, Alabama, they are making arrangements to manufacture on a large scale. At Cuba Station, Sumter county, a factory is also shortly to be in operation. These are a few of the indications that the South will soon become filled with factories. The result of the war in throwing capital into an entirely new channel, the facilities of material to be used in manufacturing, contiguity to the said material, equality of temperature, and a thousand other facts, point out this region as the future home of the factory.

AN UNSATISFACTORY REMARK.—One dark night, not long ago, a burglar entered a private residence in Sixth Avenue. On ascending one flight of stairs he observed a light in a chamber, and while hesitating what to do, a large woman suddenly descended upon him, seized him by the throat, forced him down through the hall, and pushed him into the street before he had time to think. "Heroic Repulse of a Burglar by a Woman," was the way the story appeared in the newspaper next day. But when friends called and congratulated her upon her courage, she exclaimed: "Good gracious, I didn't know it was a burglar. If I had, I should have frightened him to death. I thought it was my husband come home drunk again. I was determined he shouldn't stay in house in that condition."

SINGULAR FACT.—An iron tube has been sunk fifteen feet through the constantly shifting sands of the Cape fifteen or twenty feet from high-water mark, and not more than three feet above it, and the water in this tube rises and falls with the tide; yet, strange to say, although more than one hundred barrels of water have been pumped from it at one time, the water is all fresh and the slightest trace of saline taste is perceptible in it. Indeed, so excellent is the quality of the water that out-going vessels supply themselves with water from this well. Here is an evidence of one of those freaks of Nature which seem inexplicable to our mortal understanding, but which in reality amply enough—if we could but comprehend it.—New York World.

"Oh, doesn't he declaim fluidly!" exclaimed Mrs. Partington, delightedly, as she listened to the exercises of the Humtown Intellectual Mutual Improvement Society. Her admiration knew no bounds as a young declaimer, with inspiration truly Demosthenian, launched the flashing beam of his eloquence broadcast among his auditors. "How fluidly he talks! He ought to be a minister, I declare, and how well he would look with a surplus, to be sure! He stands on the nostrum as if he were born and bred an orator all his life. I wish the President was here to-night. I know he would see he was an extraordinary young man, and like as not appoint him minister extraordinary, instead of some that never preached any at all."

Thanksgiving Day.

By the Governor of the State of Tennessee, The Lord is good, then let all the people return thanks and praise Him.

Now, therefore, I, D. W. C. Senter, Governor of the State of Tennessee, do hereby recommend that Thursday, the 24th day of November, inst., be observed by the people of this State as a day of public thanksgiving and praise to the Giver of every good and perfect gift, supplicating Him that His mercies may be continued to us as a people throughout the year upon which we are about to enter.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the Executive Department in Nashville, this 7th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and seventy, and of the independence of the United States, the ninety-fifth.

By the Governor:
T. H. BUTLER, Secretary of State.

President Juarez has granted permission to make the survey and explorations for the proposed Tehuantepec Canal, and has given directions that the local authorities of the states of Vera Cruz and Oaxaca be requested to aid the expeditionary party. The expedition under Captain Shufeldt, passed Key West October 31.

"I am afraid, dear wife, that while I am gone, absence will conquer love," said an affectionate husband to his spouse, on taking leave of her to go on a distant journey. "Never fear, dear," replied the devoted wife, "the longer you stay away the better I shall like you!"

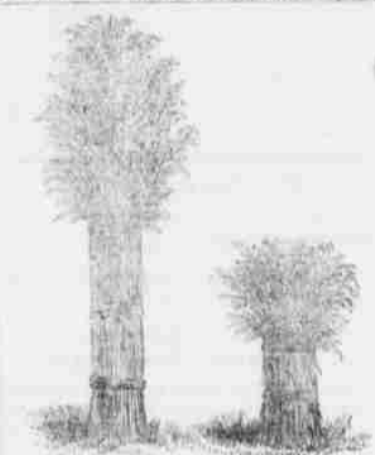

Says the Psalmist—"He maketh my feet like hind's feet." A negro preacher read "He maketh my feet," and proceeded to say "dat a hen in de hen-roost, when she falls asleep, tightens her grip so's not to fall off. And dat's how true faith, my brethren, holds on to de rock."

By way of reprisal on account of the publication of the secret papers of the Emperor found at Paris, the Bonapartists threaten to publish documents which will compromise members of the old opposition parties.

Dr. M. Lytle's Elixir!

Diarrhea, Dysentery, Bloody Flux,

CHOLERA MORBUS, PAINFUL PURGING, SUMMER COMPLAINT, CRAMP AND COLIC.

The want of a medicine of this character has long been felt by the community, and has induced the proprietors, by over thirty years' trial in private, to introduce it for the benefit of the public as a simple family medicine. It does not act as a cathartic, but by reducing the acidity of the secretions, maintains the health of the bowels, reduces the inflammation, hence performs a thorough cure.

The proprietors take the liberty of stating to the public, that no more perfect receipt (which is guaranteed for the cure of the above mentioned diseases) exists in the world, being entirely vegetable and containing no sugar, lead or other noxious drug or mineral. And they would further say that the proprietors have used the Elixir for the cure of numerous physicians who have used it.

DIRECTIONS:—To adults, a tablespoonful after each passage, or four times a day. To children under five a half-teaspoonful as required. To children under five a teaspoonful. To children under two or three, a half-teaspoonful, as required, and by carefully administering as directed it will never fail.

Hart's Magnolian Cough Drops!

PRICE PER BOTTLE 25 CENTS.

This medicine can confidently be recommended for all diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, and Lungs. It is invaluable as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Loss of Voice, Sore Throat, Influenza, Diphtheria, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Spitting of Blood. It does not produce a cure consumptive, but from the largely demulcent and balsamic character of the ingredients of which it is composed, it is claimed that it will do all for this dire disease that any Cough Medicine can do.

The medicine contains NO OPIUM, or other ingredient of a deleterious character, and may be given with the utmost confidence and safety in every stage of the disease and to patients of every age. Dose from ten drops to a teaspoonful, according to the age of the patient, and repeated in every instance as the urgency of the case requires. In one, two, three or four hours.
